Hops On Truck To Sound Alarm

A dramatic rush for the fire hall to sound the siren and let the town know the school was on fire was made by Earl Christensen of Bannister Construction and town assistant foreman Alcide Baglot.

Baglot was working on a grader near the school when he spotted the flames. Christensen was going by in his truck when Baglot signalled him. The pair then rushed to the town hall, which houses the fire truck, and sounded the alarm.

"The natural gas wasn't hooked up to the school yet," Christensen explained, "so we didn't have to worry about shutting it off. We know that had nothing to do with the fire."

Furnaces in the school are coal operated. In fact, 25 tons of coal was lost in the fire.

Math Teacher Chodan Early On Fire Scene, Helps Rescue Files

Grade 11 math teacher Nick Chodan was one of the first to dash to the Dr. Swift High School when the fire siren sounded.

Mr. Chodan saw the flames shooting out the windows of a grade 11 room and ran for the building, thinking he would close some of the doors and help confine the fire with hand extinguishers.

For a time, it looked like this could be done, but the heat caused several explosive blasts that pushed out some of the corner window-wall areas.

Among those who arrived early were the principal, Mr. MacMillan, Ben Rizolli, Eugene Lobay, Alcide Baglot who turned in the alarm, Earl Christensen of Bannister Construction, and Jack Williams of the forestry department, along with caretaker R. E. Graham.

Typewriters were rescued from the grade 12 room in the basement and about half the contents of desk drawers in another room. The men then went to the principal's office, said Mr. Chodan, and saved confidential files, accumulative records, and from the staff room saved high school grades and exam papers.

FIRE GUTS ROOM IN 45 SECONDS

Fire Chief Dobson said the fire literally raced through the frame and stucco school building last week. Fire gutted one room in only 45 seconds, despite two hoses pouring water into the room.

The fire seemed to get in between the ceiling and flooring and couldn't be held back. The chief kept hoses trained in the chemical laboratory area in an effort to save about $5,000 worth of equipment.

"At least if we save that," he said on the fire scene, "we have at least accomplished something."

150 Desks Brought From City To Accommodate School Students

All students from the charred Dr. W. H. Swift High School were accommodated this week following the fire. Some 150 desks were brought to town from Edmonton, according to S. N. Odynak, division superintendent for Lac la Biche schools.

Grade 12 students are taking classes in the Canadian Legion Hall, the Grades 10 and 11 in the elementary school gymnasium and the Grade 9 in the town library and school division offices.

Grades 9 and 12 students will be writing their departmental finals beginning next week. Grade 10 and 11 students will be dismissed at the end of this week.

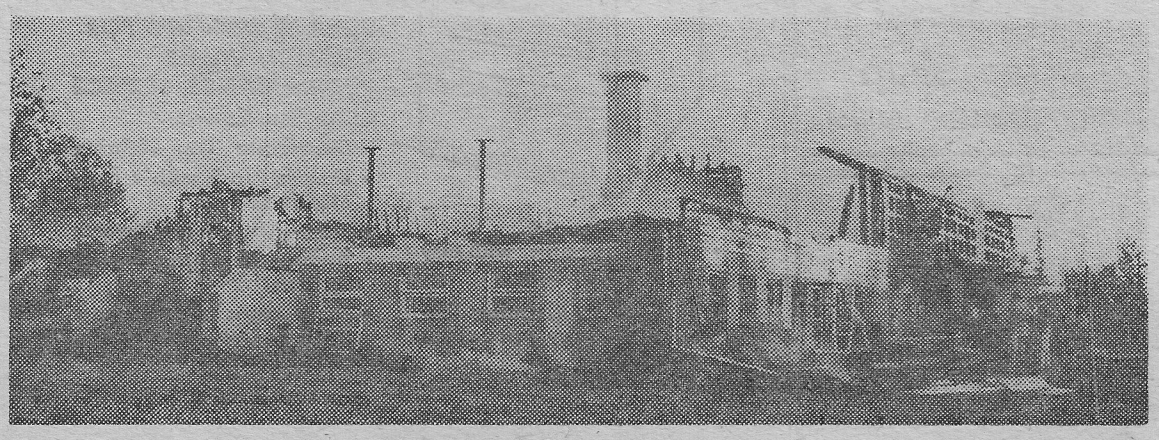
Mr. Odynak said school board officials have consulted with their architect on a new high school building and plans "will be made as soon as possible."

The school board will likely use the divisional office library, the elementary school gymnasium and the Syrian School next fall until the new high school is completed.

An insurance adjuster was at the scene and Gordon Allen, senior investigator for the provincial for marshall's office in Edmonton, was to leave for Lac la Biche to investigate.

SPORTS DAYS

Don't miss the section in this issue telling of the coming sports days July 1 and 2 in the town of Lac la Biche.



SCHOOL FIRE PICTURE at Lac la Biche was snapped by Managing Editor Ken Larson who was on the scene June 16. School officials estimate the loss of the 11-room Dr. W. H. Swift high school was about $100,000. Fire levelled the building shortly after the eight teachers and 170 pupils left the building after 4 p.m. Co-operation of the fire brigade, forestry department, teachers, students and townspeople, in trying to control the blaze is deserving of mention. A new school on different, but more spacious property, is planned "as soon as possible" by the school board.

Forestry Dept. Praised For Help In School Fire

The forestry department came in for high praise from Lac la Biche volunteer Chief Dobson. Reason was the brigade pumped the town's water supply nearly dry in half an hour after they got to the school fire — and the forestry department came to the rescue with two powerful pumps taking out lake water.

The fire brigade cut to 50 per cent capacity when the water level hit four and one-half feet in the tower and then stopped at three and one-half feet.

The forestry department then cut in its two pumps which could handle a total of 225 gallons per minute through one and one-half inch hoses.

Manning the pumps were Stan Olzsowka, Stan Fischer, and Len Sawtzky. Fischer, who was in town for a day from fighting forest fires in the Lac la Biche division, couldn't seem to get away from fire fighting.

Students Inspect Charred Books

Hundreds of townspeople witnessed the Lac la Biche school fire. The next morning, still curious folk came back for a second look.

Among those, inspecting some charred books that had been taken out before being completely destroyed, were Arnold Michetti, Diane Pohranychny, Ovide Langvin, Ken Nikolaychuk, Judy Chester, Connie Kolstad and Jacqueline Grenier.

Cpl. K. Williams Honored At Party

Corporal K. Williams and his family were guests at a farewell party held in their honor in the McMurray Legion Hall. Cpl. Williams has been in charge of the McMurray detachment of the RCMP for the past five years and is being transferred to Two Hills. Following an evening of dancing Cpl. and Mrs. Williams were presented with a purse by McMurray's Mayor J. Wagner. On behalf of the McMurray chapter of the IODE of which Mrs. Williams has been a member and educational secretary, Regent Mrs. W. Hill presented Mrs. Williams with an engraved coffee spoon.

Completely Razes Building, But Cause Not Determined

A $100,000 fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the Dr. Swift High school, Lac la Biche, June 16. Shortly after 4:30 p.m., the assistant town foreman, Alcide Baglot, who was grading the street nearby, noticed smoke coming from one of the rooms and quickly turned in the alarm.

The volunteer fire brigade responded in their usual alacritous manner but for some unexplainable reason, the fire engine refused to start. Several precious moments were lost when the truck had to be towed a short distance to start it, but it was soon in place and the firemen were hard at work.

The first seemed to have started in the Grade 11 room on the south side of the building. Before long, the intense heat built up such a pressure, the windows were blown out, along that wall. Flames were soon shooting out of the roof and columns of dense black smoke poured forth, hampered the work of the firemen. Soon the forestry pumps were set up at the lake a few blocks from the school and water was pumped direct to the inferno, to supplement the supply from the firetruck.

When members of the fire brigade and the teachers realized they would not be able to save the building, they managed to salvage some equipment from the opposite side of the building. However it soon became too dangerous.

Mr. McMillan, principal of the school assisted by Fire Chief Dobson were successful in saving most of the records and other valuable papers from the office in the extreme south west corner.

Hundreds of spectators, among them many tearful Grade 12 students, watched as the building gradually was engulfed by the hungry flames. Fortunately no one was in the building when the fire broke out and no one was injured during the fire. The day was very calm but homes on the south side of the street across from the school were watched carefully for any flying embers.

Besides the usual equipment and books, many personal items including a new tape recorder and a record player recently given to Sister Mary, Grade 9 teacher, by her brother, were lost in the fire. Many notes belonging to the different teachers were burned. Mrs. Hayduk, who has taught for 20 years lost valuable notes.

The fire coming when it did, just days before the start of departmental exams was a great disaster. Students and teachers alike are finding it difficult to finish out the term in makeshift quarters. But the board and staff made plans so that valuable time was not to be lost.

The origin of the fire remains a mystery. One of the teachers, left the building only 15 minutes before the alarm sounded and at that time there was no smell or sight of smoke in the hallways.

The school was built in 1944 and contained 12 rooms. Eight teachers are on the high school staff. Estimated loss in around $100,000.

One-eyed automobiles on the high way help to produce the accident record.

Vows Of Miss Josephine Fornari, L. Langevin First For New Church

LAC LA BICHE — Miss Josephine Mary Fornari and Mr. Leopold Irenee Langevin pledged marriage vows recently in the first wedding to be held in the newly constructed St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church, Venice. Father Bissonnette conducted the double ring ceremony and led in the Nuptial High Mass for the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Fornari of Venice and the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Langevin of Lac la Biche.

The church altar and communion rail were decorated with yellow, white and mauve chrysanthemums and the guest pews were marked with white bows and tiny white bells.

Miss Yvonne Langevin, aunt of the groom played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor-length wedding gown of lace and net. The bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline outlined with irridescent sequins and lily point sleeves. The full skirt featuring tiers of pleated net in the back, ended in a semi-train. A crown of lace and pearls held in place the floor-length veil. The bridal bouquet was of red roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Celine Langevin, Edmonton, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and the three bridesmaids were Louise Badry and Marilyn Joncas, Lac la Biche, and Nellie Giacobbo, Edmonton. They wore identical gowns of chiffon over flowered print in shades of midnight blue and aqua, respectively. The dresses were styled with full skirts, three-quarter length sleeves and boat necklines. Their tiny hats with veils were in white and their colonial bouquets were also white.

Francis Fornari, niece of the bride, and Celina Michetti were the flower girls. They wore short white dresses with wide sashes and white bandeaus and carried baskets of blue carnations.

Best men were Mr. Alan Southwick, Mr. Gerard Langevin, brother of the groom, Mr. Johnnie Maccagno and Mr. Andre Langevin, cousin of the groom.

A reception for 60 relatives and close friends was held in the parish hall, Venice, immediately following the wedding service. The bride's table, decorated with fresh lilacs was centered with a four-tier wedding cake.

To receive her guests, the bride's mother chose a model of beige chiffon over lace with hat and gloves en-tone. Her corsage was a yellow carnation.

Mrs. Langevin was dressed in gold linen embroidered with silk roses. Her accessories were brown with a lighter brown hat, and white carnation corsage.

Father Bissonnette proposed a toast to the bridal couple. Numerous pictures were taken of the bridal party.

Later a reception for 260 guests was held in the Memorial Hall, Lac la Biche. The tables were decorated with seasonal flowers. Mr. L. J. Badry was master of ceremonies and proposed a toast to the bride and groom. Telegrams were read from the groom's brother, Mr. Albert Langevin, Norman Wells, and from his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Trachuk, Blairmore.

Ramsey's Orchestra played for the well attended dance.

For a wedding trip to Jasper, the bride wore a beige flowered silk dress with matching duster and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Langevin will make their home in Lac la Biche.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. Tony Chimenillo, Jasper, uncle of the bride, Miss Yvonne Langevin, Edmonton, aunt of the groom, and Mr. Alby Richard, Edmonton.

R. E. Graham, caretaker at the high school, said he narrowly missed injury when an explosion ripped out a corner wall and windows.

Mr. Graham was at home when his son told him of the fire. He ran to the school and rescued a lawn mower. He tried to close the doors to the rooms. Some were blistered from the heat.

"I was just going to try to shut some of the windows when the blast occurred," he said. "I can't figure out why there was an explosion when the windows were open. We managed to rescue about 25 typewriters and chairs and desks from the typing room."

Business Petitioners Request Change In Thursday Closing

LAC LA BICHE — A petition of 13 signers has asked that the Thursday closing By-law be changed to Monday closing in Lac la Biche. This request was presented to the town council at its June 13 meeting.

Reasons for favoring Monday over Thursday as the day for businesses remaining closed, were presented by a number of prominent businessmen.

From the number of names on the petition, and the opinions expressed during the discussion which took place, it appeared that the business men were almost unanimous in the choice of Monday.

Sixteen visitors and ratepayers were in attendance to witness the June 13 regular meeting of Lac la Biche Town Council. Councillors Tkachuk, Shanks, McMillan, Vincent and Bouvier, and Mayor Maccagno and Secretary Creighton were present.

In answering the delegation, the mayor and council pointed out that the people of the town and district should be allowed to express their views on the matter before a hasty decision is made. The matter was moved tabled until the next regular meeting in order to allow for time to learn the reaction of more of the people who will be affected if the change is made.

Ed Almond, sanitary health inspector for the Athabasca Health Unit, was present to discuss location of trailer homes within the town. It was recommended that the town provide four lots for trailers, with two trailers locating on each 50-foot lot. The lots would be serviced with sewer and water and rented at a nominal charge. Council agreed to consider the plan when preparing the annual budget.

Three building permits were approved for construction of new homes at a cost of $12,000, $11,000 and $8,000 each. A permit was granted for improvements to a dwelling to cost $1,200. Approval was given for a license to operate a retail store in the building formerly operated as John's Shoe Store.

Authority was given the ball club for the right to use the sports grounds on the dates of July 1-2 for the towns annual sports celebrations.

The secretary was asked to write Mr. Sage, of Sage Oil Co., letting him know that the road to the gas wells is impassable, and it is urgent that something be done at once to remedy the situation. The meeting adjourned to June 20.

Annual Baseball Tournament To Highlight Dominion Day Events

LAC LA BICHE — One of the biggest events planned for July 1 will be held this year when the Lac la Biche Baseball Club sponsors it's annual baseball tournament.

The club is leaving no stone unturned as they go all out to make this two-day tournament the biggest and best yet.

Last year, keen interest was shown in the parade which was termed by many as one of the best for a town of this size. From all indications, this years interest is very high, and many citizens and businessmen are already working on their floats. Plans are to start the parade at 10:30 in the morning. All those planning to enter should get further details from Jack Olstad.

With $1,100 in prizes for baseball, it appears that there may be too many entries. All clubs not already entered should do so immediately or they may be left out. Teams from Wilna, Lac la Biche, Redwater, Two Hills, Grassland, Wandering River, Plamondon, Athabasca, Kikino and St. Lina have signified that they will definitely be here.

The Lac la Biche Dodgers have been playing good ball this year and think they rate a good chance of keeping a large portion of the money right where it belongs.

On the second day of the tournament besides the final and some of the semi-finals, the club plans to feature a regatta at the main pier.

To round out the evening there will be a dance in the Memorial Hall and a magnificent display of fireworks.

It seems as though all roads will definitely lead to Lac la Biche on Saturday and Sunday, July 1 and 2.

President F. W. McMillan Addresses High School Graduation Ceremonies

Principal F. W. McMillan addressed the high school graduates of '61 during their spring ceremonies, calling those ceremonies "a very pleasant interlude in the serious work program in which we are occupied.

"We must not forget that the real process of graduation involves passing examinations and earning a diploma which then gives us the right to be called high school graduates.

"As you are constantly becoming more and more aware, the demand of our present-day society is for people with training. This was further impressed on us in all the sessions we attended at our recent Career Day. The obligation is on you, and on us your teachers to assist you, to choose a line of endeavor in which you can be most successful and useful to society.

"Never was a time when business, industry, and government have combined to give such great encouragement and assistance to students as at present. Never before was it so important for the young people of our country to come forth with training to fit them to take their places in such a highly organized and complex civilization.

"Each Grade XII class has certain dominant characteristics. I would say that this present class is characterized by a cheerfulness and sense of humor along with a wholesome sincerity. Each one of you has chosen, or is at least considering, a worthy goal. If each of you will carry on with this same cheerfulness and sincerity to develop your talents along the line which holds most interest and promise, I am sure that rich rewards are in store for you."

Included among the students and their talents as listed in their class histories were:

ELAINE LOBAY

When her father was teaching a class in Frains
He was compelled to put up with his daughter, Elaine.
He found it hard to teach his pupils the 3 R's
When this sweet little brat played with her cars.
For Elaine and her screaming and stomping and crying
Would cause them to turn to see where she was lying.
Her devilish path could never be mapped
And she continued her pranks even after being slapped.
Elaine soon outgrew this area small,
And to Lac la Biche she moved in the fall.
She's been here with us since her first school year
And we find that studying was her greatest fear.
Being an asset to the school as well as being fun
Winning ribbons and points when in races she'd run.
Her talents in acting her teachers discovered,
And from that day on they never recovered.
The role that she played so resembled the past
For a devilish child is what she played in the cast.
When the next year she came more studious she appeared
But that dwindled when spring came just as we feared.
For there was Elaine as prominent as could be Right in the midst of a water pistol spree.
The spring frolic, though, soon did expire
When Elaine's water pistol ended up in the fire.
And from this you can see that Elaine's never changed
From the time she helped dad to teach school back in Frains.

GERARD LANGEVIN

We have a boy in our high school
Who follows all, but one small rule.
He finds his watch is never right
Because of working late each night.
Cars and engines he loves to fix
But finds with school this does not mix.
French nearly over, Chem. to begin
Who is that saunters in?
Slouching there very much aloof
He watches Mrs. Hayduk hit the roof.
This boy who is always en retard
Is better known as our Gerard.
For twelve years a friend to us he's been
We hope the future holds much for him.

DONNA HAMAR

From Edmonton city came Donna to our town
And here she's remained as a student renowned.
She entered our school in the year '49
And ever since then she's been doing very fine.
A perfectionist to us she has always been
No exception in trackmeet, as two crests she did win.
But a sprained knee in grade ten she acquired
So from track competition Donna retired.
But our school will remember her and her races
The achieving of red ribbons as she set the fast paces.
Not only in sports does Donna excel,
But also in music she's done very well.
From Schubert to Brahms to Tschaikowsky and Bach
She can tickle those keys making musical talk.
She's also a student of the highest class,
For two years and more with honors did pass.
She's also known as true sports fan
The rules of every game she can clearly understand.
These games she follows on the T.V. set
So she's well up in sports: this you can bet.
She's continually listening to the latest sports
And is always tuned to the "¼" to reports.
And from this you can see she's the type who does much
Yet still comes up with eighties and such.

BARRY BREAU

Sir Walter Raleigh was not so polite
As Barry Breau, much to our delight.
We girls are fortunate to have this knight
To offer his services when ever he might.
But besides being chivalrous, gallant and game,
Dear Barry, we find, is also a brain.
Especially in history he does excel,
And even in math. he does very well.
He seems to remember both dates and events
From Balboa to Baldwin and all their descents.
He works in a garage from four to nine
Leaving few little moments for homework time.
Concentrating on books and remembering names
Leaves Barry little time to enjoy any games.
For his talents in social a scholarship was won
To Banff went he, where a conference had begun.
But when to school he returned, to give his report,
We found his account was very, very short.
Something in this community made his mind go astray
Could it be that his chivalry had gotten in his way?
Maybe his coat he laid in the street
So that a young miss wouldn't soil her feet.
And that's our Barry, in whom we delight
Who should pass his exams without even a fight.

LOYE McCULLOUGH

The McCullough couple expressed much joy
When the stork brought home their little Loye.
A true little lady she has proven to be
Since starting school to learn the ABC.
For twelve long years she's been at school
And was found just breaking one small rule.
The room is all quiet, the desk makes a squeak
There we see Loye turning 'round to speak.
But her whispers no longer raise the teacher's glare
As she looks and notices her well kept hair.

LINDA PRICE

Linda, Linda, stop your giggling
Do your work and stop that fiddling.
We know you're happy, we know you're gay,
But why don't you stop it for just one day?
You're happy because schools almost through
And you'll be out doing something new.
But with one month to go there's still work to be done
So let's settle down and postpone the fun.
As far as exams, we're sure you'll do well
But leave your whispering till after the bell.
Then home to Craigend on the bus you can go
Relating to mother your tales of woe.
But don't take us seriously—keep up with the gab
You liven the classroom and make it less drab.

ANNETTA SENETZA

Annetta was born in the town of Smoky Lake
And from the hospital crib, she moved to Lyle Lake.
Baby Annetta was always quiet and content
As her vocal chords she didn't augment.
And as her dad did move from school to school
She soon became acquainted with the "Golden Rule".
From Lyle Lake to Lac la Biche she went
And then in Fairview four years she spent.
Up to grade eight, she was a travelling lass
Then grade nine in our school with honors did pass.
Her voice is still so soft and low
But she's keen in mind, this we all know.
Out of school her ambitions do not fade
As her talents on the keyboard she has often displayed.
With all her assignments she is never late
And tonight she is with us to graduate.

Gladys Trefanenko Feted At Shower

LAC LA BICHE — Miss Gladys Trefanenko was guest of honor at a surprise bridal shower held in the Grade seven room after 4:00 p.m., June 14. Some 20 lady teachers and wives of the men teachers were present.

Miss Trefanenko was presented with a waffle iron and sandwich toaster. Her marriage to Mr. Orest Bereska is an event of July 8.

Parade—Baseball—Bingo—Dancing

Two Big Days Of Sports Await Lac La Biche Fun-Loving Folk

LAC LA BICHE — On July 1 and 2 all roads will lead to the town of Lac la Biche and the mammoth two day sports. An extra day has been added to provide a full week-end of fun for all the family

The committee has worked long hours to plan a program that will provide fun for all ages and people of all likes and dislikes.

A parade has been planned and if all the businesses enter floats as they did last year this will be one of the highlights of the day. As well as the regular type floats there will be the school boys band, the sea cadets, RCMP, Legionnaires and fire brigade marching in the parade.

On the midway there will be food concessions, implement and auto displays and the popular pastime of bingo.

Most of the crowds attending the sports day will probably be found at the ball fields. Baseball for men and boys and girls softball will be on most of the time and fans can choose their favorite ball game or wander back and forth from one to the other.

Real excitement is a promise for the evening entertainment on July 1. Fireworks will be displayed for the entire family and there will be a dance in the newly renovated Lac la Biche Memorial Hall. After the young fry are tucked away in bed come and enjoy an evening of dancing, there will be good music.

GOOD TO GATHER

Public welfare minister Jorgenson spoke briefly, saying he felt it was good "for us to get together to assess what lies ahead. We've got a job to do. If you mean business," he added, "you must be willing to give of yourselves in the greatest party that ever struck Canada."

He stressed that those attending the convention must realize that the people of Alberta get things done—that it isn't just the government or politicians. He said if they believe it is the people looking after provincial matters then "you should remember that you are making the demand on yourself, not the government."

Men in high places know there must be a change in the economic setup in Canada, Jorgenson stated, and industrial giants across the nation are recognizing Ernest Manning as the greatest statesman in Canada today.

REIERSON SPEAKS

The minister from St. Paul, Hon. Raymond Reierson, told the rally that the next election will see the Diefenbaker administration swept out of office "if we are dedicated to the job of electing Social Credit members to Ottawa."

He said only Social Credit which recognizes the rights of the individual can do the job, but urged Albertans give their young people a good education to ensure mature leaders in the future.

Home Town Dodgers Bombard Redwater

LAC LA BICHE — The Lac la Biche Dodgers showing surprising power at the plate, swept both ends of a double header from Redwater by scores of 12-6 and 16-2 before a large home town crowd.

Centre fielder Ponich provided the big scoring punch in the second game hitting for the distance in two successive appearances at the plate, with the first coming with the bases loaded. Orville Franchuk and Daniel Bourque also hit for the distance.

Besides wielding a potent bat. Franchuk pitched the first game and kept the Redwater batsmen well handcuffed until the sixth inning when the scored four unearned runs. Peter Kirylchuk pitched a strong game in the night encounter and was in complete control of the game at all times. Kirylcuhk loaded the bases with two out on three successive walks in the first inning but came through in fine style by striking out the next batter.

Every member of the Dodgers got at least one hit with even the usually weak hitting Coutney and Bouvier each connecting for doubles. A touch of irony was added to the defeat with two out and runners on second and third, Redwater issued an intentional pass to hard hitting Oqcher. Franchuk stepped to the plate and promptly lined a double to clear the bases.

The lineup for the Dodgers was as follows: Bourque, C.; Franchuk P.; Kirylchuk P.; Olstad, 1 B; J. Tessolin, 1 B (R. F.); Coutney, 2 B; Tichonuk L F; (3 b); Owcher; Ponich C. F.; Bouvier R. F. (1 b); Jim McCormick C; J. Bereza R. F.

ALBERTA'S HUGE RESERVOIR for water is Calgary Power's Brazeau Dam project located somewhere between Lodgepole and Rocky Mountain House. It will provide a constant source of electrical power. The above picture shows the upstream cofferdam with the river flowing through the two unwatering conduits. The smaller downstream cofferdam can also be seen with equipment working on it. The main dam will be built between these two cofferdams which will eventually become part of the finished dam. The bottom photo shows the steel work for the new 200,000 horsepower unit rising above the present structure. The intake and outlet canals are clearly visible. This third unit will be coal fired, burning coal which will be strip mined from the adjacent Wabamun coal field.

Lawrence Badry & Linda Senstza Top Their Divisions With Essays

LAC LA BICHE—Winner in the district essay contest for grades five and six was Lawrence Beaudry whose teacher was Mrs. A. Mastaler.

His work, "Hunting Safety" took story form beginning: "Two boys, Bobby and Joe Wilson planned a long hunting trip the following day at sunrise. They hurried around, buying equipment, food and ammunition. Having decided to travel by jeep, they packed their supplies, ready for the exciting trip ahead of them.

They started early the next morning. After a few hours travel, they passed a grove of tall pines which cast their shadows on the green grass. They continued travelling, and as they went farther, the forest became more dense and was filled with thick underbrush. After travelling five miles farther down the winding road, they reached their destination and found a suitable place to pitch tent. Seeing it was late, the boys decided to wait till morning, before venturing into the green forest.

Morning came with its bright sunshine and asure blue sky. After a hearty breakfast, they started out in search of their prey. They walked for three hours without any success, so Joe decided to have lunch in the forest. "We'll have lunch here," said Joe.

"Why not go to that meadow ahead where there is a lot of grass?" Bobby asked.

"There's no shade there," was the reply. They sat down to rest, and at the same time eat their lunch. Joe was about to remove his red cap when Bobby spoke up:

"Better keep your hat on, or you may be mistaken for an animal."

"But it's so hot," said Joe. "Anyway, it won't hurt." He threw his cap off and leaned wearily against a tree.

They were nearly finished lunch, when the sharp report of a rifle rang loud and clear through the still air. Joe gave a startled cry of pain, and slumped over a stump beside him, clutching his right arm. There was a heavy crashing in the bush and a young man bounded out of the forest. Both he and Bobby rushed to the wounded boy's side. The bullet had gone through the arm, breaking the bone. Each labored breath that Joe took, brought a stream of crimson from the wound. The boys made a tourniquet to stop the bleeding, and carried him back to camp. Quickly packing their equipment and the remains of their grub into the jeep, they started for the nearest hospital some fifty miles away.

After an almost endless journey, they reached the hospital where Joe's wound was properly taken care of. The doctor assured them that after a few weeks Joe would be well.

Accidents like this need not happen for hunting rules should be known and obeyed by every hunter. Failing to keep his cap on proved all but fatal to Joe. The boys also should have rested in an open place where a person is plainly visible. Furthermore, the hunter who shot should not have done so until he was entirely positive of what he was shooting at.

Topping the Grade seven and eight division was Linda Senstza, a Grade seven student in the class taught by P. Ponich. His title was also "Hunting Safety."

Mr. Collins has just finished eating his dinner and since he did not have anything to do the rest of the afternoon, he decided to go hunting rabbits. After he had got the horse ready, loaded his gun and changed his clothes, he rode off toward the meadows.

After riding a while he came to a high fence. He did not feel like getting off his horse and opening the gate, so he leaned his gun against the fence and unhooked the gate. As he lifted his gun by the barrel the trigger caught on the barbed wire fence and the gun, being loaded, went off, hitting him in the shoulder. He waited & waited for help to come but none came and he was bleeding terribly.

At home his wife was worried because he had said he would be home within an hour so he could get ready for their dinner date. She went to the garage, took out their old car and drove along the rutted road. As she glanced toward the gate in the meadows she happened to see something red. She quickly stopped the car and got out to see what it was. As she neared the shirt she recognized it as her husband's. Then she ran over, picked him up, and half-carried, half dragged him to the car. As soon as she had him in the car she sped away to the hospital. After two days of waiting he showed signs of improvement. Mr. Collins, who was very healthy and fortunate, lived.

This accident could have been prevented if he would not have loaded his gun and if he would not have been so lazy as to simply get off his horse and open the gate.

IODE Plans Ball And Box Social

LAC LA BICHE—The meeting of the Christina Gordon chapter of the IODE was held at the home of vice-regent Mrs. M. Jewett with nine members and four visitors present. Regent Mrs. W. Hiu presided and Mrs. H. Dunstar was acting secretary in the absence of secretary Mrs. A. Nichols. Plans were made to hold a calico ball and box social in the McMurray theatre hall to raise funds. Plans were also made to have a "dollar doll" raffle at the July 1 sports to raise funds.

After a discussion regarding the annual cash award of $15 to the grade nine student making the highest average over 65 and $25 to the grade 12, it was decided to leave it as is for this year. With one member already gone, and two more leaving soon, there are three vacancies on the slate of officers. Mrs. R. Theriault was nominated to fill the position of Secretary when Mrs. A. Nichols leaves; Mrs. N. Verbisky was nominated to replace Mrs. K. Williams as educational secretary and Mrs. G. Strandberg was nominated to replace Mrs. H. Dunstar as Echoes secretary.

Following the business meeting regent Mrs. W. Hill presented Mrs. H. Dunstar with an engraved coffee spoon. Mrs. Dunstar has been an active member of the IODE since coming to McMurray, 10 years ago, and is leaving shortly with Mr. Dunstar for Victoria, B.C. where they will make their home.

Mrs. Alice McKinnon was the winner of the monthly raffle.

Mr. William Niblock Overcome By Asphyxiation, Wife Recovering

HELINA — Funeral services were held June 23 for Mr. William Niblock, who had been found dead in his bed at home on Thursday of last week.

Apparently, soon after retiring on Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Niblock had been overcome by fumes tures in the house. It was believed escaping from leaking propane fix- that Mr. Niblock had been dead some 30-36 hours before he was found. Mrs. Niblock, unconscious during this time was immediately rushed to hospital when the couple were discovered. Although her chances of recovery had been considered poor, she regained consciousness on Sunday and is doing well.

The school bus driver had noticed the lack of signs of life from the Niblock home and had notified the couple's married son, Roy Niblock. Roy immediately investigated and found his parents. The smell of propane was very evident.

The RCMP and an ambulance were called from town.

A prosperous farmer in this district for the past 17 years, Mr. Niblock is survived by his wife, his son Roy, three daughters, Mrs. Doreen Fred Kerr of Mitz, France; Mrs. Norma John Rhodes of Calgary; and Mrs. Josephine Clayton Hayward of Lac la Biche; two brother, James of Victoria and George of Forestburg; three sisters, Mrs. Helen Gauthier of Forestburg; Mrs. Allen Mills of Edmonton and Mrs. Hazil Wolfe of High Prairie.

A great uncle, Mr. Hashberger of Georgia, U.S.A. had been on the way to visit his nephew. He attended the funeral Friday.

The funeral services had been delayed to allow Mrs. Kerr to arrive from France where her husband is stationed with the armed forces.

Canon Gibbons officiated at the service. Andrew-McLaughlin was in charge of arrangements. Interment was in an Edmonton cemetery.

Waterways

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tolen are back home after attending the funeral of Mrs. Tolen's brother.

The local firemen were hosts to the town councillors and their families at a picnic held last Sunday, along the Clearwater river near Draper.

A public meeting was held at the town hall June 14 for the purpose of making an early start on development of the Recreation Centre at the Prairie Corner on the 10 acres of land recently tured over to the town by the department of lands and forests. The following committee was appointed to go ahead as soon as possible, they are, L. Golts, Ken Driver, Ken Cochrane, H. Stroud and A. Bussieres.

These past couple of weeks of hot weather have brought the local boats out in full force, and water skiing has become quite a sport on the Clearwater.

The annual sports day will be held on July 1, at the Prairia Ball diamond. There will be ball games, races and fun for all. The women's club of Waterways will be in charge of the booths this year. Everybody is urged to come and enjoy himself and not to leave the kiddies at home.

Repair work is being done on the Waterways curling rink with Ted Lonergan in charge.

Rich Lake

Several district residents attended the annual St. Paul Rodeo recently.

In Nomination Speech:

Joe Mikkelsen Pledges Adherence SC Principles

Mr. Chairman, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am very pleased to see such a large gathering as we have here today. It proves that the Social Credit Movement is very much alive, a fact the opposition is well aware of. I am also pleased, and I am sure you will be, that we are not allowed to bore you with lengthy speeches. You have been good enough to leave your work, and come here today, to make this convention a success. It is only reasonable that we make it as expedient as possible.

I have come before this convention today, to ask your support and approval, as your candidate in the Athabasca Federal Riding, in taking this step.

I was not motivated by any personal political ambition, but if the convention approves, I shall serve you to the best of my ability, adhere to the true principles of Social Credit and ideals, and with your co-operation and every effort on behalf of myself:

To conduct a campaign in such a manner, as to assure you that this constituency next federal member, will represent the Social Credit party in Ottawa.

However, if you decide that someone else is better qualified, I can assure you that he will have my fullest support and co-operation.

I fully realize that this is quite an undertaking, as borne out by the fact that we have never been able to send a member to Ottawa from this constituency.

We as Social Creditors must be united in the national field, as we are in the provincial. No one can be both positive and negative, he must be one or the other if we are to become a force on a national scale.

Due to the independence of the human spirit, its only natural difference of opinion, will arrive from time to time. We should not allow it to interfere with our main objective—the implementation of the principles of Social Credit.

The old line political parties, through their refusal to consider economic reforms and adopt the Christian principles of Social Credit, are day by day leading us toward Socialism, and eventually, Communism.

The ideology of Communism changes its tactics, as it becomes expedient to do so, but never its aims, which is world domination and it is our duty as Canadians to see that this does not become a reality.

The Social Credit party is known mainly as a monetary reform movement. Our other aims and objectives, which I shall read to you in part, demands equal attention.

Social Credit is based upon the foundation of eternal principles.

These can never be destroyed. They will be true for all men in all places at all times. We believe that human individuals were created in the image of God, and therefore inherit, and should be accorded in the earthly scheme of things, a place of dignity as befits true sons of God.

We believe man was created a free moral agent and as such must have the opportunity of exercising that freedom wherever it does not infringe upon the same freedom of others. We believe all things were created for the benefit and progress of all mankind and glory of God. Ladies and gentlemen, if we adhere to these principles in their true meaning, we shall without fail, take our rightful place as a leader in the counsels of Canada.

If I am chosen as a candidate at this convention today and elected to Ottawa, I can assure you in all sincerity, that I shall work toward the implementation of these principles. The decision is yours!

THE Homemakers

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

Here are some facts that will help the bride to stock her utensil cupboard.

To have efficient arrangement and storage of utensils and economy of investment, it is important to choose only those utensils which are really used. For this reason buying a "set" of pots and pans is seldom wise.

B. McCutcheon

Make a list of what utensils will be needed for cooking and baking. Make your selection with this list as a guide.

Consider the following points:

Size—to fit unit, burner or oven of your range for convenience and good use of heat. Consider the number (although variable) to be served.

Use—for top-of-range or oven cooking or both, also serving.

Shape—straight sides to save heat and range space. Rounded corners and smooth finish for easy cleaning. Grooved at top so lid will fit tightly.

Flat Bottom—so pans will stand steady and level. Dull finish to absorb more heat.

Handle—one that stays cool, is well balanced, securely fastened at a comfortable angle, and fits your hand.

Cover—close - fitting, non-warping and non-rusting.

Quality and Materials—durable material and good construction, consider the following materials. Dull finishes are best as more heat is absorbed.

1. Aluminum utensils are either cast or formed from sheet metal. Sheet aluminum is made different thicknesses or guages. Pans made from medium to heavy guages are very durable. Utensils of very light weights are the cheapest but too thin to stand up under daily use. They are suitable for utensils of occasional use such as cookies sheets, cake pans, etc.

Cast aluminum is heavier than most of the sheet aluminum used in pans. It is rigid, does not warp, is very durable and in good quality resists pitting.

Whether cast or sheet, aluminum distributes heat evenly and quickly. It holds heat well.

It is easy to handle. Does not rust or chip.

Aluminum will darken or pit from the alkali in food and water. For this reason salty foods or liquids or hard water should never be left in the utensil. Consider the type of water in your district.

Rubbing with ordinary household acids—vinegar, lemon juice, cream of tartar will brighten darkened areas.

Pitting is permanent.

STAINLESS STEEL

(a) Without Coper Bottom—Holds heat well; not affected by acids and alkalis. Does not dent easily. Absorbs heat slowly—conducts heat unevenly and gets hot in spots. If overheated, it develops brownish spots which can't be removed.

(b) With Copper Bottom—Heats quickly and evenly; does not develop hot spots; copper bottom prevents warping. Copper bottom tarnishes readily but is more efficient when dull because heat is absorbed. Saucepans and frying pans are more efficent with copper bottoms than all stainless steel. With another metal, such as copper, used on the bottom, there are two metals present expanding and contracting at different rates. This could, in time, result in a pan that would not be level on the bottom.

(c) Sometimes a special heat-distributioncore is used in the steel. If copper bottom is covered with chromium it is less efficient than (b) because of greater heat loss. It never tarnishes. Chromium plating may wear off in time especially with excess scouring.

Corning Ware — This is the newest naterial to appear on the market for cooking ware. It is made of the same material as the nose cones of space missiles.

(Pyroceram). It can withstand extreme heat and cold and, also, any rapid tamperature changes. It can go directly from the freezer to the oven, then to the table. It is attractive in appearance, especially with the new abstract design, so is appropriate for table use. It will chip or break if it receives a blow or is dropped on a hard surface. Avoid using hard abrasives or steelwool. Use a plastic scouring pad.

Price Comparison — March 1961.

2 qt.—aluminum (Galaxie Supreme)—$5.50. 2 qt.—stainless steel (Coronet) $8.95. (Core in sides and bottom). 56 oz. (1 7/8 qt.) Corning ware (no handle) $5.95 2 qt. Tecaware $7.95, handle $2.00 (copper bottom), stand $2.35.

Corning ware is a popular wedding gift this year, so, as a "hot tip" to all brides—do not invest in any until after the wedding!!
